AUSTRIA (Lichtenstein): F Ion retreats to Nap

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Richard Miller, 350 Central Park West, New York, New York 10025.
28 March 1971

It was a pleasure seeing the official announcement of THE DIPLOMACY ASSOCIATION in the last issue. Everyone I spoke to is elated in having at last an organization to fill the gap in the needs of the players. All of Diplomacy is indebted to John Beshara whose efforts fulfilled this desire. While over-the-years many people talked of wanting this kind of organization, it took John Beshara only a handful of days to bring about the accomplishment of a responsible, membership organization, which is already the largest in Diplomacy, THE DIPLOMACY ASSOCIATION.

It is not surprising to find an individual by the name of one Rod Walker still talking aimlessly while John Beshara is functioning in behalf of the betterment of Diplomacy. Rod the Talker's ego is crushed because he was not consulted in the formation of THE DIPLOMACY ASSOCIATION or invited to be on its Board of Directors. Nevertheless Walker the Talker is still agitating his mouthings, consisting of the most gross verbiage, and cannot understand why his pleadings to be on the Board of Directors are simply pointless. Even the simple-minded should be able to sense the obvious. Like Gideon, Walker the Talker aspires; unfortunately, he aspires for more than to serve Diplomacy, he aspires to be the "God of Diplomacy."

[While ATLANTIS prints this letter, it does not mean that the editor agrees with the opinions expressed here. Neither does it mean that I disagree with them. Views to the contrary will also be printed, subject to space and time considerations. [For the opposite side, I refer readers to EREHWON 43, pages 6-7.]

ADDITION TO ATLANTIS HOUSE RULES

The section under "B." should be changed to:

B. While the rules do not allow a unit to retreat to the country from which an attack is made, it does not specifically prohibit a unit's retreat to a different space, even if that space is a part of the country from which the attack was made. Because of the use of "Coastal Crawl," there are exactly six such unusual retreats allowed, and they are referred to as the "Crawling Retreat":

ENGLAND: F Spa (ac)-Mid, this move is supported
FRANCE: F Mid holds, is dislodged and may retreat to Spa (nc)

ENGLAND: F Spa (nc)-Mid, this move is supported
FRANCE: F Mid holds, is dislodged and may retreat to Spa (sc)
